Headline:
Becoming brighter with sunny spells and wintry showers.

Today:
Cloudy start across southern and eastern Aberdeenshire with outbreaks of rain, sleet and snow, but brighter conditions across Moray and the north spreading south through the morning. Sunny spells and occasionally heavy, increasingly wintry showers this afternoon. Freshening northerly winds. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells and, especially in the north and east, occasionally heavy snow showers, perhaps sleet on coasts, this evening and overnight. Widespread frost with ice on untreated surfaces. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Friday:
A cold day with a mix of sunny spells and snow showers, the snow showers becoming increasingly confined to the east coast in the afternoon. Occasionally fresh northerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry through the weekend with some sunny spells and slowly turning milder, perhaps some overnight rain on Saturday night. Monday looks cloudier with outbreaks of rain.
